FROM RICK DAVID
UHY Chairman

I am delighted to present the 2020 UHY Capability Statement, my first as UHY’s chairman. Through 2019 I have had the privilege of overseeing the growth of our international network as it develops in line with our clients’ ever more sophisticated needs. This progress continues in 2020 as we rise to the challenges posed by new regulations and the opportunities offered by new technologies.

Businesses and professional advisors alike have had plenty to keep them awake at night in recent times. Increasing political and economic uncertainties continue to cast a shadow over international trade but I am confident that our network is facing this future in great shape, thanks to the excellent working relationships our member firms have with their clients.

This has always been a differentiator for UHY. Alongside quality, one of our key tenets is working together, not only with clients but also between every member firm in the network. In this way, we strive to provide world-class service, delivered consistently and seamlessly across borders. Our member firms currently operate in over 300 business centres across more than 100 countries, and more locations are being added all the time – nationally through the strong organic growth of incumbent firms; and internationally through the careful selection and appointment of new member firms, which share the same commitment to quality and the client-led values that define the UHY culture. It means we can keep pace with our clients’ global ambitions now and in the future, without compromise.

In this edition of the UHY Capability Statement, we present examples of working closely and successfully with clients large and small, across a variety of sectors with all their attendant issues and challenges. From a Hollywood legend, a world-famous charity and an ambitious European renewables business to an award winning aerospace logistics specialist, a global recruitment enterprise and a food-for-the-future biotech venture, I hope we provide some insight into what makes our client relationships tick.

They are a tiny representation of the many thousands of client assignments that our member firms across the world deliver each year, but they do serve to illustrate UHY’s collaborative approach, the deep client relationships we nurture and the way our member firms support cross-border client needs. But perhaps most importantly of all they are also testimonials — what our clients value, in their own words.

I would like to thank you for reading this publication, which includes a useful directory of all our member firms and also a reminder of the breadth of services they provide. Please do not hesitate to contact me or any of our listed international contact partners if you would like to discuss ways in which we might be of service.

Best wishes
Rick David
Dolph Lundgren was born in Sweden but now lives in Los Angeles, US. He has been an actor, screenwriter, producer and director since 1985, in which time he has been involved in over 70 motion pictures for film and television. Highlights of his career include playing Ivan Drago in Rocky IV alongside Sylvester Stallone, appearing in the James Bond movie, A View to a Kill and working with actors such as George Segal, Keanu Reeves, Jean-Claude Van Damme, Micky Rourke, Bruce Willis and Arnold Schwarzenegger. On top of his work in the entertainment industry Dolph is an astute businessman and a chemical engineer who was awarded a Fulbright scholarship to go to Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT) to do his PhD in Chemical Engineering.

CHALLENGE
As Dolph Lundgren’s career progressed he found he was spending a lot of time travelling and acquiring properties in Spain, Sweden and US. He needed specialists and business advice to coordinate his new commercial activities and he wanted the security of knowing that his business affairs would be managed by one network with a strong global reach. Having previously worked with a single local accountancy firm he was keen to develop a relationship with a network that could introduce him to member firms wherever he was building a presence around the world.

SOLUTION
Enjoying strong personal relationships with his advisors is important to Dolph and having been introduced by a Swiss banker to Bernard Fay, former chairman of UHY and joint managing partner, UHY Fay & Co, Marbella, Spain, 20 years ago, he knew that he and his colleagues represented the best firm to support him. In the last two decades Bernard has helped Dolph build his property portfolio, take advantage of international film opportunities and secure his financial future. More recently, Bernard introduced Dolph to Andrea D’Amico, audit & assurance partner, UHY Advisor SRI (Tax & Accounting), Rome, Italy, to discuss a film project which is still in progress. According to Dolph, “Andrea provides a very personal level of service and care which is what I have come to expect from UHY.”

UHY Fay & Co also supports Dolph internationally in collaboration with his renowned Swedish lawyer, Mr Björn Rosengren. Bernard describes his firm’s relationship with the Swedish legal team as “close and very positive”.

RESULT
Dolph’s relationship with Bernard and his team at UHY Fay & Co is proof that it is possible to combine a serious commercial relationship with a strong bond of friendship and mutual interests. Dolph’s relationship with Bernard Fay & Co is proof that it is possible to combine a serious commercial relationship with a strong bond of friendship and mutual interests.

The Elton John AIDS Foundation (EJAF) is one of the world’s foremost independent charities working to support people affected by, or at risk of, HIV or AIDS. The organisation, which has operations in both the UK and the US, is supported by many high-profile and internationally renowned patrons and trustees, from musicians like Sting and Annie Lennox, to tennis legend Billie Jean King. The fourth largest philanthropic funder of global HIV grants, as of 2018 it has raised over €400 million to support HIV-related programmes across Africa, Asia, the Americas and Eastern Europe. In that same year the turnover of EJAF’s combined entities was USD 28.5 million.

CHALLENGE
In 2017, after seven years working with the same auditor, and following recognised good practice, EJAF’s UK arm undertook a review and tender process. Fiona Russell, global finance director at EJAF says, “Having worked with the same auditor for several years, and despite getting a very good service, we felt it was time to see what other networks could offer. We invited several auditors, including the incumbent firm, to submit tenders. We focused on networks that offered experience with charity accounts and grant foundations and, due to the consolidation of our UK and US operations, we wanted to find an audit partner who could offer us a global service. We did not consider one of the Big Four networks.”

UHY IN THE NOT-FOR-PROFIT SECTOR
UHY member firms have extensive experience of working with a wide range of not-for-profit organisations including charities, educational institutions and trade unions. We understand that the main focus of clients is on those who benefit from their services but also that they need to operate within tightly controlled finances subject to public scrutiny. With increased competition for grant funding and charitable giving and a greater burden of compliance, our member firms help ensure organisations are efficiently managed to deal with the challenges.

SOLUTION
According to Fiona, the presentation by UHY Hacker Young, London audit partners, Subarna Banerjee and Daniel Hutson was extremely good. “We were impressed by the fact that UHY Hacker Young was a larger firm with more experience in giving specialist advice about VAT, not-for-profit organisations and other queries, plus the fact that we could use the same network to build a relationship with UHY member firms in the US for the audit of EJAF there – which is something we acted on very quickly when Subarna put us in touch with Michael Burke, audit partner at UHY LLP, New York, US.

“The UHY team had the expertise and experience to help EJAF move forwards and our trustees were immediately impressed by their enthusiasm.”

RESULT
Since their engagement in 2017, UHY Hacker Young in London and UHY LLP in New York, have successfully carried out audits of both EJAF UK and EJAF US. They have also supported EJAF UK through the government’s Making Tax Digital programme and they offered specialist VAT advice for an event which took place in France.

Fiona says, “Working with Subarna and his team has made the year and audit efficient, smooth and straightforward. Despite the Board meeting date moving forward by a few weeks, both the US and the UK financial statements were ready in time for sign-off. Subarna, as our main contact, is always extremely helpful and responsive. We looked forward to building on our already strong partnership which has a great cultural and commercial fit.”
Balakrishnan says it will not stop there: “We still have plans to open companies in more countries, especially in EMEA, South America and the APAC region, in the future.”
eTeam first worked with UHY Hacker Young in 2017 when the company acquired Darwin Rhodes. Stuart Hutchison and his team at the UK member firm’s Letchworth Garden City office specialise in the recruitment sector and were group auditors and advisors for the British company. They were invited to tender for the work under the new ownership regime and won the contract. The acquisition of Darwin Rhodes brought with it subsidiaries in Switzerland and Hong Kong. At the same time, eTeam was contemplating further international opportunities. The challenge for UHY Hacker Young was to simplify the new eTeam group structure in a way that would maximise tax efficiencies, and make it easier to secure further cross border expansion.

THE SOLUTION
With the acquisition of Darwin Rhodes, eTeam effectively created two groups with separate tax arrangements. One of Hacker Young’s early tasks was to amalgamate these separate entities and simplify the group’s tax liability.

“When eTeam acquired the Darwin Rhodes Group, it added a number of trading and non-trading foreign subsidiaries. It made sense to consider how this group would fit in to the existing eTeam business as the two parties were initially separate,” says Stuart.

“Having encouraged eTeam to contemplate the commercial impact of a simplification of the two group structures, we moved on to the group’s tax position. We discussed how small improvements in the centralisation of support functions, combined with better use of group tax losses, could generate more revenue and greater cash flows in an expanding business.”

With these improvements in place, eTeam was in a better position to consider other international opportunities. But to successfully expand across borders, the group needed to navigate a diverse range of tax regimes, financial regulations and business cultures to create the most efficient corporate structure in each location. It has now done so with the help of UHY’s global network.

Stuart says: “eTeam’s vision involves expanding their service offering and business model in to various worldwide jurisdictions. Knowing our international reach, they asked me to introduce them to colleagues scattered around the globe, as set out in their business plan.”

Stuart reached out to the network, and eTeam has so far been referred to UHY Lauer & Dr. Peters KG, Germany; UHY Farrell Davie White Limited, Ireland; UHY in Malaysia; Goen Accountants/Consultants, Netherlands; UHY M.L. Aguirre & Co. CPA’s, Philippines; UHY Lee Seng Chan & Co, Singapore and Balmer-Etienne AG, Switzerland.

Local UHY member firms have been on hand to help the business comply with national and regional regulations and create the most cost-effective corporate structure for local conditions. In the Philippines, for example, UHY M.L. Aguirre & Co. CPA’s first received a referral enquiry from Stuart in August 2018, and has since performed a range of tasks relevant to the creation of eTeam’s subsidiary in the country. They include incorporation, accounting and tax filing, payroll services, audit and various mandatory government accreditations.

In Ireland, eTeam’s local subsidiary has only recently been established. UHY member firm UHY Farrell Davie White Limited is already involved, registering the business for relevant taxes and dealing with regulatory requirements. In the future, the firm will be handling payroll and ongoing tax matters.

At this stage, eTeam has especially benefited from the UHY network’s expertise in local regulations surrounding company formation. “eTeam are very much in the early stages of this expansion,” Stuart says. “Most member firms have been responsible for forming local companies and advising the client on the compliance and tax requirements in the member firm’s country.”

THE RESULT
UHY’s joined-up approach has created concrete benefits for eTeam, as Jag explains: “Working with UHY member firms has allowed us to achieve tax planning at a global level – we continue to restructure to achieve efficiency by lowering taxes and taking advantage of tax benefits in the UK and across the globe.”

“Wherever eTeam has needed the services of a UHY member firm – whether it is in the UK, Singapore, Germany, India or elsewhere – the network has always found a team with the experience and expertise to help the business make the most of every opportunity,” says Jag.

“They have helped us to achieve higher profitability and business growth by offering timely advice on corporate restructuring, efficient tax planning and providing other advisory services as needed. The senior partners and employees of UHY’s member firms are experienced and knowledgeable professionals and can be relied upon for their expert advisory services.”

“Partnering with multiple UHY member firms was not initially part of the plan. eTeam carried out full due diligence in each territory it moved into, considering various local accountancy firms before coming to an informed decision.”

“We ended up selecting the UHY member firm in each country,” he says. “That is because UHY is a fairly large network with expertise in multiple areas that are important to us, such as taxation, audit, specialised consulting, corporate restructuring and various other services.”

“In my mind the services offered by UHY member firms are comparable with those of a Big Four firm, but at a more competitive cost – they genuinely provide true value for money,” says Jag.

eTeam’s global expansion will continue, and the blue-chip staffing specialist wants UHY to be part of their team throughout the journey. “We want UHY to be our global provider so we will eventually be replacing our current partners across all countries where we do not yet use their local member firms. Every time we expand UHY will be our first port of call. We value our relationship with them and we feel truly valued as a customer.”

UHY IN THE RECRUITMENT & MANAGED SERVICES SECTOR
Because UHY member firms provide management consultancy and people-based solutions across the world, they understand the needs of this sector and are therefore well positioned to advise on a global level. Their expertise in the internationalisation of businesses and recruitment services is world-class.
Viatec is a business that is flourishing in the wake of Europe's booming demand for sustainable energy. The company constructs and maintains wind turbines for onshore wind farms, offering a turnkey service that includes the on-site installation and servicing of tower sections, generators, blades and cabling works. Based in the city of Poznań in Poland, Viatec posted revenues of around USD 24 million in 2018, and employs 28 people. It now operates in seven European nations, from Sweden to Croatia.

CHALLENGE

The need to generate energy from wind has created a vibrant industry across much of Europe, and countries such as Germany, Denmark and the UK have forged ahead in the design and construction of both offshore and onshore wind farms. The industry is backed by decades of thorough research and development, and friendly EU and local regulations are in place to support its rapid expansion. For those reasons, wind energy is likely to dominate the European renewable energy mix for the foreseeable future, ahead of alternative power sources like wave and solar.

But until recently Poland lagged behind. The country lacked the necessary skills and infrastructure to fully exploit this most infinite of natural resources. Viatec was founded with a goal to lead wind energy generation efforts in Poland, by constructing and maintaining wind turbines for onshore wind farms. It quickly realised that the domestic market alone would not be enough to meet its ambitious targets.

Viatec financial director Olga Kazimierska says: “The strategy of Viatec was to build competence and presence in foreign markets. And that meant there was a natural requirement for a professional accountancy firm with a wide EU network, alongside tax advisory competencies and a thorough understanding of high-growth SMEs.”

Viatec’s goal is to provide its turnkey onshore wind generation service to markets across Europe, before looking further afield in the future. An Initial Public Offering (IPO) will also be considered.

SOLUTION

Viatec considered several competing accountancy firms before partnering with UHY’s Polish member firm, UHY ECA, represented by partner Piotr Woźniak and his team. UHY ECA’s expertise, network connections and experience of helping other high-growth SMEs were crucial factors in the decision.

“We know Piotr Woźniak and UHY ECA in Poland have a good reputation for tailoring services for SMEs, and it also provides audit services for a number of listed companies,” says Olga. “It has also been extending its range of services, which makes it convenient for us to work with one advisor familiar with both company and branch-specific issues.”

RESULT

Viatec’s partnership with UHY, alongside its own expertise and determination, has seen business operations spread quickly across the continent. The company moved into Germany in 2016 and Belgium in 2017, assisted by UHY Lauer & Dr. Peters KG in Berlin and UHY-CDP Partners in Brussels.

Having proven, without question, that a market for its products and services existed beyond Polish borders, 2018 was a year of significant planning and growth for Viatec. In a single year UHY ECA referred Viatec’s enquiries to several other UHY member firms including UHY Audit CD S.r.l., Romania and UHY UZMAN Sworn in CPA and Independent Auditing Inc., Turkey.

In every case, says Olga, Viatec has received the same excellent level of service. She praises member firms’ comprehensive understanding of the needs of high-growth SMEs.

UHY ECA provides accountancy, auditing and business advisory services to Viatec, and its central position in a highly connected network has also proven invaluable. With the help of the wider UHY network, coordinated by UHY ECA, Viatec has been able to fulfil its ambition to quickly forge a presence in burgeoning wind turbine markets across Europe.

“We have been recommended by UHY ECA to a number of UHY member firms,” says Olga. “We can always count on a full exchange of information and detailed discussions between UHY ECA and local UHY member firms in each location to arrive at the final solution for Viatec.”

UHY member firms have assisted the company in complying with both customer requirements and local regulations, helping to put Viatec’s vision into practice.

WE RELY ON THE QUALITY AND ACCURACY OF THE SERVICES UHY MEMBER FIRMS PROVIDE WHEN CONSIDERING NEW MARKETS WITH OUR SERVICES.

UHY IN THE ENERGY & RENEWABLES SECTOR

From onshore wind and solar power to upstream oil and gas exploration, our member firms work with many leading players across the energy spectrum. With rising global demand for energy and growing environmental pressures, the sector is at the top of both corporate and government agendas.

UHY member firms currently work with businesses involved at every stage of energy generation and distribution, helping them to maximise opportunities and comply with ever greater regulatory challenges.

“We know there will always be a thorough knowledge regarding accounting, audit, tax and business advisory, alongside a thorough understanding of the nature of SMEs and the flavour of a high-growth company. Importantly, there is also the ability to see and consider issues in perspective,” says Olga.

“UHY has helped us achieve compliance – with regard to both customer requirements and local regulations – and has aided our ability to grow the business overseas. I would describe UHY as a trusted partner for high-growth companies like us.”

Piotr believes UHY’s network has been key to the success of the relationship. “I know that Viatec is highly satisfied with the service it receives from us and they remain excited about their partnership with UHY,” he says. “The company knows it can always expect deadlines to be met, to get the support it needs and to always have direct contact with UHY experts. “But the most important thing as far as Viatec is concerned, is UHY’s ability to expand with them and offer the same excellent level of service in so many places around the world. This is the true essence of the international network.”

Viatec’s pioneering attitude to international expansion is unlikely to end there, and the company is considering a move beyond Europe’s borders. UHY member firms are on hand to help the company’s integration into local markets around the world.

“We rely on the quality and accuracy of the services UHY member firms provide when considering approaching new markets with our services,” says Olga. “We are encouraged to see the ongoing development of the UHY global network – the recent addition of an Iranian member firm, Hadi Hesab Tehran, for example – as we look forward to further expansion.”
In 1988 B&H Worldwide set up as a freight management company, principally serving the aerospace industry. Now dedicated to supporting aerospace companies, the B&H Group provides time-critical freight and management solutions to airlines, MROs (maintenance, repair and overhaul providers) and component suppliers.

So successful are those solutions that in 2017, B&H Worldwide received the award of Best in-Class Global Aerospace Logistics Company, from the Global Institute of Logistics, followed in January 2018 by another prestigious award from the British International Freight Association (BIFA), in the Supply Chain Management category. By combining first class service with technology, B&H has positioned itself as a clear market leader.

CHALLENGE

B&H first engaged UHY Lee Seng Chan & Co, Singapore in 1999. “We were appointed as the statutory auditors as well as the agent for filing of income tax returns,” says senior partner, Lee Sen Choon.

“For 20 years we have been providing statutory audit and tax compliance services for the Singapore subsidiary of the group.”

With significant changes looming in June 2016, B&H Worldwide in the UK reviewed the accounting function and tax planning for the entire group. Gary Wilson, then B&H’s non-executive director, visited UHY Lee Seng Chan & Co to discuss the group’s plans for Singapore and other subsidiaries in the Asia-Pacific region and around the world. Gary’s challenge was to investigate whether they should continue to use different firms for different regions or to change to working exclusively with UHY member firms in every region they operate in.

“This could have been painful but it was quite straightforward,” says Paul. “We were still enjoying local representation, but with the reassurance of a strong UHY umbrella. Despite some early protests from our lead partner at UHY Hacker Young in London we quickly resolved to do it. We focused on adding clarity, structure and consistency from the word go to achieve a consistent auditing benchmark across our group.”

RESULT

To support global operations, UHY member firms now provide B&H with streamlined group audit and tax services in the UK, Australia, Germany, Hong Kong, Malaysia, New Zealand, Singapore and the US. The consolidation is managed by UHY Hacker Young, London, under the leadership of Jessica Moonghen, audit director.

“Jessica is excellent,” says Paul. “If I have anything to query outside of Singapore, I go straight to her. Her service levels are high and I am sure that her involvement in the consolidation in 2017 was key to its timely completion. Likewise with Tan Guck Kee, engagement partner at UHY in Singapore. She is speedy, accurate and responsive – our relationship with the team there grows stronger every year.”

As B&H focuses on driving more growth, their need for a strong global accountancy partnership is critical. “Growth for us means growing transactions and as we move from being a small entity to a medium one, we need our UHY member firms to keep challenging us to get everything right. Both Jessica and Ms Tan are quick to remind us of any upcoming legislation and we know we are in safe hands,” says Paul.

“Geographically we see opportunities in Asia where the airline industry is growing at a rapid pace and we are also looking to develop business in the US and Europe. Based on our experience of the world go to achieve a consistent auditing benchmark across our group.”
